The English Department is comprised of scholar-teachers committed to the promotion of literacy and the cultivation of scholarly and professional competencies in critical thinking and persuasive writing across a wide spectrum of literary, technical, and rhetorical situations. We foster intellectual and cultural diversity, originality of thought, and clarity and cogency of expression through degree programs designed to advance careful, sophisticated reading practices as well as complex analytical and research skills. We aim to cultivate our students’ management, organization, and production of knowledge. Our curricula prepare students for a wide array of professional endeavors, including law, teaching, publishing, technical communication, advertising, media, and business, as well as the pursuit of advanced degrees.

The Department of English offers courses to fulfill requirements for the major and minor in English at the bachelor’s degree level. It also offers a program leading to teacher certification, a cognate option in technical writing, and writing courses at a variety of levels, including English as a second language (ESL). A Master of Arts degree in English is described in the Graduate Catalog.

The department of English offers the following degree programs:

CLEP Examinations

EH 101: Score of 50 and proficient performance on Freshman College Composition Essay. EH 102: Score of 65 and superior performance on Freshman College Composition Essay.

Declaring the Major

Students are advised to officially declare a major and to obtain a Program of Study by the end of the sophomore year or at the completion of 42 semester hours. Students may initiate the Program of Study by meeting with the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences Academic Advisor (Morton Hall, Room 336).
