

Information Assurance Certificate

The Department of Computer Science collaborates with the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering and the College of Business to offer an interdisciplinary graduate certificate program in Information Assurance. Contact the Department for further details.