Womens and Gender Studies (WGS)

WGS 200 - INTRO WOMEN’S & GENDER STUDIES
Semester Hours: 3

Focusing on gender as a fundamental category of meaning, the course will introduce methods and approaches to Women's and Gender Studies in a variety of disciplines, examining the pervasive and often unacknowledged ways that gender changes our social institutions, individual knowledge, and interpersonal relationships. The course includes guest lectures by many of our faculty teaching courses in the Women's and Gender Studies minor.

WGS 340 - SPECIAL TOPICS
Semester Hours: 1-3

Pre-announced special areas addressed in seminar format, laboratory work, or practicum. May be taken twice for credit. Prerequisite: WGS 200.

WGS 499 - INDEPENDENT STUDY
Semester Hours: 1-3